Saint Genesius Productions and the Intramural Drama Club are doing something new this year—a staged radio play version of the Frank Capra classic, It’s A Wonderful Life. This beautiful story illustrates how one person’s life touches so many others, and how one person, through self-sacrifice and basic goodness, can make life better for his fellow man. If you have not yet seen the movie, see it!

Because our version is a staged reading replicating a 1940’s era radio show, we will be using scripts during the performances. However, strong voices and interesting vocal character choices will be extremely important. We need actors who can do a variety of accents and ages, and since many actors will be playing multiple roles, they will need to do several different, distinct voices. In addition, we will be casting two individuals as Foley Sound Effect Artists, who will be replicating all the sound effects in the show, live on stage. Because there are so many different sound effects (often several on a single page), we will need two energetic people performing this vital role.

Additionally, we are looking for a small group of Choral Singers to perform Christmas carols before the show and during intermission. We are especially interested in singers who can harmonize well.
